MEDIA AND INFORMATION LITERACY AND DIGITAL COMPETENCES ENHANCEMENT FOR ACTIVE AGEING

Newsletter 2, February 2023

Create a new and more engaging ways to foster senior citizens' digital skills and media and information literacy, to increase their ability to defend themselves from 'different virtual dangers' (fake news, online scams, 'fishing') while empowering them in using ICT tools with confidence in every aspect of their life.

PROJECT UPDATE

The MILEAGE project is moving forward finalising its first results. The partners prepared the analysis of RISK AND BARRIERS faced by seniors in the digital environment. The report is created to give trainers, seniors and the general public some information related to the digital environment that the seniors face in their daily life, offering some tips and advice to enhance seniors' digital competences and trust in the digital world.

The consortium also created the report on FOCUS GROUPS which we conducted in each partner country to define the needs of seniors in terms of the learning content. As the results the partners made a conclusion that a personal, engaging, practical approach to seniors' learning is needed to cut down the intergenerational gap and decrease the digital divide.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Micro-lessons: How does that work?

The project partners finalized the development of the micro-lessons, one part of the training program that the project partners are building in the framework of the project. The micro-lessons cover such topics as:

- Organizing your trip online, i.e. booking accommodation, buying your tickets;
- Using such messengers, as WhatsApp, Viber, Skype, Messenger;
- Recognizing a fake profile on social media;
- Using platforms for dating;
- Catching email scams, phishing and fake news;
- Making payment online and using online banking.

VIRTUAL RISK SCENARIOS

The project partners have also started working on the virtual scenarios, interactive role playing online content based on micro lessons and risks and barriers identified in the framework of the project and embedded into the online platform developed by CARDET, the project's technical partner. Transnational Project Meeting in Torino, Italy January 13, 2023

The Italian project partner FRAMEWORK hosted the project partners in Torino on the 13th of January 2023. Numerous managerial and content issues were discussed by the consortium, which permitted to move forward the development of the training content further. The meeting was organized in the hybrid format with a member of a Cyprus team participating online. We would like to thank the Italian team for a wonderful meeting organization that reinforced the consortium cooperation.
